AN AMERICAN JOURNEY: BUILDING A BRIDGE TO THE 21st CENTURY

Every four years, the United States inaugurates its president, a splendid reaffirmation of our nation's democratic values. In 1997, Americans from all backgrounds and walks of life were drawn to Washington to celebrate President Clinton's second inauguration. As in 1993, Epicenter Communications' team of more than 20 photo-journalists converged on the nation's capital to document the faces and events of the final inauguration of the 20th Century. To provide the historical context for this inauguration, Epicenter's editors also scoured the archives of the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of American History. The result is An American Journey: Building a Bridge to the 21st Century, a celebration of our most sacred democratic tradition through 140 color and black-and-white photographs.

From the grand spectacle of the ceremony on the Capitol's West Front to the face of a child peeping into a festival tent on the Mall, this book tells the story of Bill Clinton's — and America's — journey into the future.

THE ART OF INAUGURATION

A LIMITED EDITION WORK OF HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE

Our Republic has witnessed fifty-two Presidential inaugurations in its history. Only twice before has the Inaugural bridged a new century. Yet never has the event been commemorated by a limited-edition masterwork by a major American artist. Until now.

George Rodrigue, called "Louisiana's Rousseau" by France's Le Figaro newspaper, whose works are collected and exhibited internationally, has created a confident portrait of America's vigorous leaders striding purposefully into the 21st century. This richly colored allegory has the sun rising on the third American century and Congress at their side. Rodrigue's famous Blue Dog has joined them on this American Journey.

Commissioned by the Presidential Inaugural Committee, the few prints remaining are being offered on a first-come basis at a fraction of the cost of comparable works by the artist. An excellent way to add an original Rodrigue to your collection, this classic collectible silk-screen print is published in three editions: The Presidential Edition of 1,000 prints on museum standard 100% cotton rag paper, embellished with extra color plates created by the artist. These extraordinary prints look more like original paintings and bear unique hand stamps of the 1997 Inaugural seal and the signatures of the President and Vice-President. Signed and numbered by the artist, each is a work of major significance and presents a singular opportunity to acquire a unique piece of American history ($1500). An edition of 2,500 Artist-signed and numbered prints on museum rag paper ($495) and an edition of 5,000 Numbered, unsigned prints ($95) are also available. These limited-editions were available only to a select few at the Inaugural. This offer is made subject to availability.

No more prints are being created. Each print is watermarked with the Inaugural seal and measures 24" x 38". Shipping charges are additional.
